I and the Father are one, is a spiritual relationship that was established in the beginning before Abraham was. From the beginning, I and the Father have coexisted. I have lived in the bosom of the Father, from the beginning. And even when I went forth to walk on earth, I never left the bosom of the Father, because I and the Father are inseparable and indivisible.

Now the completion of the search for God never ends, until you realize ... whether you receive the message, whether you're spoken to, or whether it's just an inner experience, but all of a sudden it dawns:

I and the Father are one; or I am Thou; or I will never leave thee nor forsake thee.

The moment that I voices Itself in there, you know that that I isn't man; that I is God. And now, you relax and rest in that I that I am.

And now you...

don't have to take thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, or wherewithal ye shall be clothed.

Now you rest, and life begins to be lived out from within yourself. And then it is that you find that you are a benediction to all who come within range of your thought. Not because you're walking around blessing anybody, but because as you look at them you are realizing that I at the center of their being.

But remember, this can only come about when we as individuals begin to understand that:

I in the midst of me am mighty. I in the midst of me am infinite, because I in the midst of me is God.

And now, this Joel selfhood, which hasn't fully attained that realization, now turns within. Not to somebody else, but to the I, to the center, to the consciousness.

Yes, you can prophecy. The fate of this world is freedom from sin, from disease, from death, from bondage, from limitation. And the beginning of that freedom comes with the realization of the nature of I.

Resist not evil, just be still and know that I am God.

That's enough. That one truth will begin to break all of the crusts of limitation, and outside powers that bind you. Just be still, be still and know that I am God.
